

Dear Sirs,

I have told numerous telemarketers to PLEASE remove my name and number from their list. Frequently I have been hung up on before being allowed to finish my request. At least twice, during a weekend, my phone rang continuously at approx. 20 minute intervals for over 6 hours. When answering all I could hear was electronic type noises or total silence.

Both times the calls started soon after trying to tell a telemarketer to 'QUIT CALLING', giving me the impression that the harassing calls were intentional.

Yours Truly,

Bradley Johnson
